endsheets

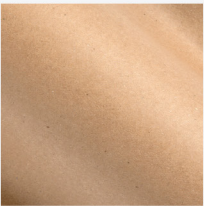

Endsheets are the vital link between a book and its cover. Therefore, it is important that they be made to exacting standards with quality materials.

We are the worldwide leader in the production and supply of reinforced endsheets. Let us help you select the proper configuration and paper style for your binding process.

From colored papers to printed images, LBS endsheets allow you to customize your book. From a single, one-color inkjet printed logo to full-color graphics, LBS has many options, available in a wide range of styles.

reinforcing materials

We understand the importance of reinforcing materials in the binding process. All of our materials are engineered for superior runability on all types of bindery equipment. These unique products are what hold and form the spine of your book block, thus extending the life of your book.

Our distinctive reinforcing materials support round back, flat back, adhesive or sewn, and most any other style of binding.
